TEAM HAKIM - RESIDENT INDEPENDENTS

Melbourne is Australia's cultural capital – it's also our home: we've lived here for decades. Together we bring deep expertise in architecture, planning, multiculturalism, financial strategy, economics and governance. Team Hakim's vision stands on three strong pillars for a more democratic, welcoming and flourishing Melbourne. 1) Working with Integrity. Democracy matters. We uphold transparency in everything we do. We're leaders in realtime donation disclosure. We thank our supporters publicly – today, not later in favours – and we refuse donations that create conflicts of interest. 2) Safety, Community and Affordability. Care comes first. Cultural understanding is our ethos: we've announced a coalition to combat divisive rhetoric, major investment into multicultural events, and multicultural, youth and resident advisories for a real seat at the table. Our planning approach prioritises people, fostering thoughtful urban design with more green spaces, and active, sustainable transport for a growing city. 3) A Flourishing Economy. We're committed to seeing local businesses succeed. We're small business owners and we're on government and big business boards. We believe that the best solutions come from industry itself, so we're democratising economic policy via investment districts that drive innovation and recovery. Our arts plans will supercharge Melbourne's arts capital status, bringing much-needed creatives back. We'll simplify access to Council services – making it easier to live, work and play in the city we love. Our expert, local and diverse councillors – visionary architect Michael Smith, strategic investor Lawrence Lam, and global community influencer Judy Gao – are determined to serve you. Team Hakim: we are Melbourne.

RIP UP THE BIKE LANES!

Retailer Sandra Gee owns a beautiful scarf shop in Melbourne's iconic Block arcade and has been a powerful advocate for Melbourne's small business community since starting in retail in 1989. Sandra and her running mate Pat Singh are running to ensure all businesses in Melbourne have an active say in the Council they pay for. Retailers and hospitality businesses have been let down for years as the Council's anti business policies get worse each year. Town Hall's botched Bike Lanes roll out is a tragic, classic example of an out of touch Council that has lost its way. Council candidates, Sandra Gee, Pat Singh and the Rip up the Bike Lanes Team will get Melbourne moving again with our Rip Up The Bike Lanes Action Plan: 1) Ripping up every bike lane to ease traffic gridlock, removing all dangerous closed concrete barriers on roads to end the council's war on cars. For more visit Ripupthebikelanes.com 2) Bringing families back to Melbourne to shop, dine and play in the CBD with free parking for all families on weekends and at night with new sanctuaries for parents and kids in a Winter Garden on Franklin Street. For more visit Ripupthebikelanes.com 3) Keeping Melbourne Safe again with improved bluestone paving on Lygon Street and zero tolerance for street crime including begging. For more visit Ripupthebikelanes.com 4) Cutting rates and cutting waste. For more visit Ripupthebikelanes.com. 5) Backing a Vegas style Sphere venue to revitalise the failed Federation Square. ANIMAL JUSTICE PARTY

Rabin and Aashna have been active and passionate advocates for creating a safe, kind and beautiful world for all. We believe that true justice can only be achieved when it embraces all living creatures. We are working to create a sustainable future for people and our planet, and enthusiastically embrace Melbourne's commitment to environment sustainability, innovation, economic growth and community. Open spaces and Co-habitation parks are adequately funded. As residents of our great city and active members of the community, we will work hard towards looking after those in vulnerable situations such as rough sleepers, homeless people and their companion animals. We will work with our colleagues in the council to effectively, efficiently and ethically use public funds towards delivering for NGOs and businesses who work to treat, protect or assist animals in our municipality. We are visionary in our thinking and want to work with a team of councilors that will make responsible decisions that benefits both current and future generations. INNOVATE MELBOURNE

We are independent, solution-focused, open-minded locals, committed to revitalising the City of Melbourne for its residents. With no political affiliations and no donations accepted, our sole focus is on representing the community's interests. We are determined to ensure key projects like the Arden Innovation Precinct work for residents, ensuring they deliver significant economic and social benefits to the entire city. Strategic planning is essential to transform this area into a dynamic hub for Melbourne's future innovators. In the short term, the City must actively nurture our local startup ecosystem to boost job opportunities. By prioritising local startups and SMEs in tenders and creating targeted incentives, we can provide crucial support to our local economy. As residents who live, work, and play here, we treasure the city's laneways, markets, festivals, and diverse culinary scene. We are also dedicated to enhancing green spaces and advancing sustainability. If elected, we will work with fellow councillors to drive progress in these areas. By day Jesse, is a parent raising a rapidly growing young boy and works in public mental health, and Andrew, works with aspiring entrepreneurs and University researchers supporting them to leverage their knowledge and desire to solve some of society's most pressing issues. This has taught us that a single person can do good, but when you empower passionate people, with the right tools, environment and support then we can create incredible impact. We are excited to work towards making Melbourne a better place for everyone.

We will ensure our city will be given every opportunity to thrive and grow. YOUR VOICE MATTERS TO ME

Krystle here! I love Melbourne-it's my home and my passion. I've lived through its worst and best times. I've been a homeless youth on these streets, a student, a bike courier, and I've worked in hospitality and retail across the council area. For 16 years, I served as a police officer, many of those years spent fighting crime and supporting victims right here in Melbourne. Now, as a Docklands resident and sole trader, I've watched the decline of what was once the world's most liveable city. For me, this is personal. A responsible Melbourne City Council is one that truly listens and works for residents and businesses best interests. A Council that focuses on real issues that it can actually improve. I believe you deserve that Council, and I want to help make it happen. If elected, I will work tirelessly to make our Council area, from Kensington to South Yarra, safer, cleaner, and more vibrant for everyone. It doesn't matter who you elect as Mayor- if they want the same positive changes, I will support them. I don't align with left or right; I'm a centrist who believes in Libertarian ideals. I'm also a practicing Christian, but my beliefs are personal-they're not something I impose on others. A vote for me is a vote for a better City of Melbourne. Vote 1 Krystle Mitchell. Feel free to reach out to me with any questions at speakforliberty@gmail.com. I'd love to hear from you! Thank-you, I appreciate you reading my statement.

THE GREENS

Melbourne is Australia's most progressive and multicultural city. We should lead in sustainability and quality of life. As local residents with strong community ties, we are concerned that our governments are not planning adequately for Melbourne's population growth and changing climate. Our vision for Melbourne is one where everyone has a roof over their head; where new housing is sustainable, affordable and diverse; where residents and businesses are supported to live and operate sustainably; and where Council plans liveable communities transparently and collaboratively. For 25 years, Greens on Melbourne City Council have fought for a fairer, greener Melbourne. We don't take donations from developers or gambling interests or make empty fiscal promises just to get elected. We have impact because we have vision, a sense of urgency and we work hard. We have a proven track record of creating new parks, planting more trees, and making transport sustainable, active and safe. Post-pandemic, the council's finances are in dire straits. Now more than ever we need progressive, local and diverse voices on Council to make Melbourne more affordable, accessible, sustainable and healthy. Current Greens Councillor Dr Olivia Ball is a human rights advocate who sets policy and makes evidence-based decisions in the public interest. She is joined on the ballot by allied health worker and smart urban design advocate Aaron Moon, and public housing and disability advocate Barry Berih. Find out more about us and our policies at melbournecitygreens.com. For a fairer, greener Melbourne, vote [1] The Greens.

TEAM NICK REECE

Team Nick Reece is a passionate and diverse group, ready to work hard for the people of Melbourne. Led by Lord Mayor Nick Reece, the team is composed of seven accomplished individuals, bringing together experience, diversity, and a shared commitment to making Melbourne a better, fairer city for all. Our policies focus on easing cost-of-living pressures and addressing key challenges with real results for residents, traders, and property owners. Team Nick Reece is committed to: Freezing rates to ease the financial burden on Melbourne's households and businesses. Slashing power bills through a community-led bulk purchasing scheme for renewable energy. Delivering 4,000 new homes by converting CBD offices into apartments to tackle the housing crisis. Reducing pool entry to $2, teaching kids to swim for free, and making pet registration free to support families. Improving city safety with new 24/7 City Safety Officers, better lighting, and more security cameras. Expanding the free tram zone to include major tourism destinations and the University of Melbourne. Transforming Melbourne into a "Garden City" by establishing or expanding 28 parks and creating green walls and rooftop gardens. Team Nick Reece is focused on getting good done by driving positive change across the city. Whether it's supporting local businesses, creating more affordable housing, or making Melbourne safer, we're committed to ensuring our city thrives for everyone. Together, we'll ensure Melbourne remains the best city in the world.

VICTORIAN SOCIALISTS

Politicians are in the pockets of the rich. Look at Labor's record – approving the Flemington Racecourse flood wall to protect the gambling industry's profits while making the 2022 floods worse for residents, then selling off public land and housing so private developers can profit. Profits for businesses and landlords in our city keep growing while life gets harder for the rest of us. Politicians are all too happy with how things are going. Society should be based around meeting people's needs, not extracting more wealth for the rich. Council should support the development of public housing, action on the cost of living change and on the climate crisis. Daniel and Ben have been community organisers and activists for many years, involved in campaigns against racism, climate change, the far right, and in solidarity with Palestine. Daniel has lived and worked in the area for 11 years. He works in the community services sector supporting migrants and refugees and is a delegate in the Australian Services Union. Ben is a Melbourne city local, and a student activist. If elected, they will fight for our community.

SEND,
E.

I am a new generation of politicians: brutally honest, pushing for change, and not a talking head. I am a crisis politician for challenging times. I am doing what government does not like – pressuring it to become transparent. I am working towards making public all council expenditures by next elections. I have already filed numerous FOI requests to access documents, applied for Regulator’s reviews, filed complaints and went to VCAT pushing for transparency. I now need your voice to make great things happen to Melbourne. Put me number one, or pressure your preferred candidate to achieve the same outcome. Together we will make City of Melbourne the first council to achieve full financial transparency. My other advocacy is in safety, emergency ready community, supporting neighbourhood houses, increased social support for youth, elderly, migrants and disadvantaged, environment, digital safety. I am now in VCAT versus state government agency fighting against use of recruitment AI that assesses a candidate’s personality based on 250+ words of written text recommending you for a job. Help bring change. Get in touch by email tell@e-send.au or post anonymously PO Box 28005 Docklands 8012.

LAND,
Jake

I have a dream of a Melbourne free of youth crime, a solution for the homeless and helpless. A thriving city bursting with locals, suburban office workers and tourists. A prosperous seven day and night city. The greatest city in the greatest country in the world blessed by prosperity. A country of natives, settlers and migrants united under one law and one flag. Equality for all. A country who chooses its migrants wisely, admit only those prepared to assimilate to our lifestyle, ambitions, hopes and aspirations. I pledge to listen to all opinions, so together we can make Melbourne a better place. I am passionate and determined about accomplishing this, older people have the wisdom and the knowledge that only comes from being alive for a few extra decades. Let me put that to good use for you. Let me sing the song I came here to sing. If you would like to know more about me and my policies please send your email address to jlandisadoer@gmail.com As sure as the sun rises I have the energy, ambition and wisdom to accomplish and achieve all your hopes. Let me do the next good thing! Let me make my dreams reality!

KANSAKAR,
Aishwarya

My name is Aishwarya Kansakar (29), a proud Australian of Nepali-Tibetan heritage. Having lived in four countries, I now call Melbourne home. I am an AI and automation engineer, technology entrepreneur and COO at Women4STEM. I speak 7 languages and I am a University of Melbourne Alumni who is now a STEM education innovator with Monash University. After nearly a decade in Melbourne, I have witnessed dire challenges: unaffordable rent, unsafe conditions for women and children, rising homelessness and costs for businesses, and growing social isolation among youth and the elderly. Growing up amid Nepal's civil war and later living in Japan with extremely organised communities, I understand the value of a safe, thriving environment and the consequences of not having one. As a problem solver and community builder, I aim to address these issues with my expertise to introduce community-driven digital platforms and smart city initiatives to help residents actively engage in improving our city. By harnessing the power of technology and fostering stronger human connections, I seek to make governance more transparent and participatory. Melbourne has given me a life I once dreamed of, and I am committed to helping make it a place where everyone can thrive.

YUSUF,
Mohamed

My name is Yusuf, and I am running for Melbourne city councillor with a vision for a thriving, safe, and inclusive city. I have developed vital leadership and communication skills, managing classrooms and supporting students from varied backgrounds. I am committed to creating a vibrant and inclusive Melbourne where every resident can thrive. My four key areas: Supporting Small Businesses: I will work to reduce red tape and provide resources to help local businesses succeed. Enhancing Safety: I am dedicated to improving community policing, public lighting to ensure safety for everyone. Addressing Homelessness: I will advocate for affordable housing, comprehensive support services, and mental health programs to address homelessness compassionately. Ensuring Fair Council Rates: I will push for fair council rates and transparency I am passionate about making Melbourne a place where everyone feels included and valued. I invite you to support my campaign and help build a prosperous, safe, and inclusive Melbourne for all. Thank you for your consideration.

Residents are this municipality. Without them Melbourne city would just be a large suburban shopping center. Residents are what make this town. In all cities on our planet, residents, be they owners of title deeds or renters, such as myself, are the people who experience a city daily. A political and social philosophy that summarises this view is called communitarianism. This land had this before Fawkner and Batman arrived. I am of the view it still exists today, renewed and changed by the time, commercial, ethical and political choices that generations of residents are making and have made. My Mother was born in this city. Her mother was at the Olympic water polo match in 1956 where there was blood in the water. My grandmother is now in her 80th year. She drove her friends in her Beetle to this city to attend Melbourne Teachers College. The city today is different to the city my grandmother grew in. What should be the same is a dislike of violence and a fondness for window shopping. I want to see a city I would be proud and happy to bring my grandmother into. I hope you do too.
